

IFC-Milken Institute Capital Markets Program

Building a global network of leaders in financial policy

School of Business

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Following four successful years of the IFC-Milken Institute Capital Markets Program at the George Washington University, we are pleased to announce the program's expansion! We are excited to meet high demand from applicants and partners, while keeping the program experience intimate and curated to small groups. Starting in 2020, we will train two sets of financial leaders per year – with classes starting in Washington, D.C. each January and August.

We invite you to nominate qualified candidates for our inaugural January 2020 cohort. Together, we are providing visionary young policymakers with robust skills in financial market regulation and policy implementation. Our alumni are laying the ground-work for economic development, job creation and business opportunity across 40+ developing and emerging economies.

Participating Institutions

“My employees have returned to the Capital Markets Authority with renewed energy and excellent ideas from their training and internships. Their new skills are extremely well aligned with a number of changes I am championing. We are already seeing program alumni driving impactful change.”

- Paul Muthaura,
CEO, Kenya Capital Markets Authority,
Participating Employer

“It was a privilege learning from such an experienced cohort – nations like Kenya, Nigeria and Sri Lanka are teaching me that it's not a one-size-fits-all solution and that it is important to tailor policy to each economy.”

- Louis-Olivier Verret,
Central Bank of Haiti,
Class of 2018

IFC-Milken Institute Capital Markets Program

Building a global network of leaders in financial policy

Coursework

Tailored coursework and graduate certificate at the George Washington University

Speaker Series with executives across the Milken Institute network

Regulatory modules at the U.S. SEC

Applied workshops with IFC practitioners

Cohort 1: Jan - May 2020

Cohort 2: Aug - Dec 2020

Internship

Work placements across 20+ institutions in the U.S. financial industry

Site visits and boardroom discussions in New York City

Tailored training sessions for effective leadership and management

Networking opportunities with industry leaders

Cohort 1: May - Aug 2020

Cohort 2: Jan - April 2021

Alumni Engagement

Biennial alumni retreats featuring leading decision makers in participating countries

Alumni featured in flagship Milken Institute and IFC events and publications

Online portal for continued learning and exchange

Lifelong mentorship and policy advisory

From graduation onward, for the rest of Scholars' careers

"My internship was a memorable experience. My supervisors not only shared operational knowledge but also made me practice management and leadership skills. I gained direct exposure to different financial product structures, as well as to hedge fund trading and investment analysis decisions."

- Najia Ubaid, Pakistan SEC, Class of 2018

"It's a powerful connection – we call the alumni our second family. I now have friends all over Africa, in the Caribbean, in Asia. That just changes your whole horizon, and you know that if you have a problem you can just pick up the phone, and talk to someone who is facing the same policy challenges as you are".

- Christopher Legilisho, Central Bank of Kenya, Class of 2017

Applications for our January 2020 cohort close on 15 September 2019

To apply or nominate staff, contact:

Kateryna Timina
International Finance Corporation
ktimina@ifc.org

To get involved as a sponsor or internship provider, contact:

Fiona Mulema
Milken Institute
fmulema@milkeninstitute.org

To find out more: ifcmilkencomp.org/program

